Tips on finding information about academics and individuals

There are a wide range of resources available to assist you to find information about individuals. Many are available through the Library and Research Services Division.

Academics

Good sources for information about academics are:

- For ANU researchers - https://researchers.anu.edu.au/
- For scholars from around the world
  - ORCID https://orcid.org/ includes employment, education, publications and awards
  - InCites https://services.anu.edu.au/information-technology/software-systems/inctites for publications and citation impact measures
  - SciVal https://scival.com for publications and citation impact measures
  - Academia.edu https://www.academia.edu/ includes publications
  - Research gate https://www.researchgate.net/ includes areas of expertise, publications, research and affiliations

Individuals

Good sources for information about members of the community include:

  - You can access thousands of full-content, digital newspapers from around 120 countries in 60 languages, via the Library’s subscription to PressReader.
  - Factiva has a range of newspapers with a 90 day archive including:
    - The Age
    - The Australian
    - Australian Financial Review
    - Canberra Times
    - Australian regional newspapers
    - Wall Street Journal (Asia) Times
  - Westlaw has a large collection of international and Australian newspapers and news sources including:
    - The Washington Post
    - The Boston Globe
    - The Globe & Mail
    - The Guardian
    You can search the whole newspaper collection or the Australian & New Zealand news collection.
- Company annual reports contain a wealth of information including director bios
- LinkedIn can be helpful

Roxanne Missingham
University Librarian
August 2019