What questions do you have about Academic Integrity?

Go to www.menti.com on your computer or mobile device
What questions do you have about Academic Integrity at ANU?

- How to best inform my students about academic integrity?
- When two authors have similar ideas
- Grey areas!
- Can I use the same citations in different assignments?
- I get confused about referencing your own work (if I submitted an essay, then I want to reuse some of it in another course)
- How to make it fun?!
- Accidental plagiarism - impossible to read and cite everything!
- When to reference and when not to reference words and ideas
- What ANU approach to academic integrity is and will be in future
What questions do you have about Academic Integrity at ANU?

- How can we ensure that students in exams do not cheat without monitoring them (e.g. with Proctorio)?
- How do I make it easier? (tips when referencing)
- What cultural/ethnic issues do we need to be aware of?
- Do I cite common knowledge?
- I find it hard to have original thought at all! Feels like everything has been said and done.
- Are there any positive motivations to use AI? I always hear about the negative (failing, bad grades, suspension, etc)
- What are the limits of studying with others?
- How can I keep track of the material I want to quote from?
- Can you have TOO MANY references? Does that imply I’m not having enough original thought?
What questions do you have about Academic Integrity at ANU?

- who owns an idea. If I come up with an idea, but don’t realise it already exists, am I responsible???
- Am I responsible if I hear about other people in my course behaving unethically (cheating on tests, buying essays, etc)?
Can you Kahoot?

On your mobile device, go to www.kahoot.it

You will be asked to enter a game pin

Then enter a nickname to join the quiz

Questions are multiple choice, with either four potential answers (represented by the colours and symbols shown to the left) or be a true or false question.

You will get points for both a correct answer and for how quickly you answer the questions.
Go to www.kahoot.it on your computer or mobile device
