

From the University Librarian No. 26, 22nd December 2016

Staffing

Farewells

We wish the very best to Erin Daly, Repository Services Assistant, Marko Rakic has now completed his work with the university and we wish him the best - he has been a fabulous contributor to our financial activities in recent years.

Print Repository who is moving to a new position elsewhere

Judy Apps will be finishing up in late January – still time to thank her for her great work and wish her the best for the future.

End of year activities HR – thanks to everyone for getting timesheets in on time. Next year we'll be focusing on PDRs and be completing the final reviews and setting up new PDRS. Do think about ways we can help improve how we use the PDR system, Finance: Thanks to Mark Huppert and Paul Pretor for Sierra end of

Consultative Coordination Groups

Access, Avery clear and insightful post from Joseph Esposito.

Thanks to F&BS for their work - particularly Marko.

ANU Press/Open publishing What We Tell Society Publishers About Open

He reviews the models and their potential impact on processional societies:

Green Gold (author-pays) Platinum Hybrid

- Advertising-supported
- Research Publishing in Australia. Wiley held an
- Executive seminar on this topic in November the summary provides many useful insights topics include: making strategic technological investment to advance our recent trends in Australian research output - did you know that 80% of readership of Wiley's Australian journals comes from overseas, yhe Relative Citation Impact for Australian papers with an international collaborator was .75, compared to 0.91 without, while the level of international collaboration on Australian papers is also increasing year on year, over 50% in 2015 new online initiatives enabling international collaboration. Happily the presentations are online too! » read more Open access reports/developments.

AOASG. December newsletter out now. University of Cardiff's press has gone online recently-very interesting governance and publishing criteria. Open Research Funders Group. Eight highly-visible organizations have launched a partnership designed to

"shared enterprise" rather than being driven by technology the Open Research Funders Group can be found at www.orfg.org. Membership is open to nonprofit organizations around the globe that maintain or aid charitable, educational, or other activities serving the increase access to research outputs. More information on

- Model Publishing Contract for Digital Scholarship is now available for comment and feedback. Funded by the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation, Emory University and the University of Michigan the Model Publishing Contract is designed for the publication of long-form digital scholarship. Open for comment until February 15, 2017 Association of American Publishers. AAP have written to President Elect Donald Trump - open access is not on their list - they argue for "adequate copyright protection and effective copyright enforcement" and call on him to take action "Congress

Must Fix DMCA to Ensure Service Provider Cooperation to Protect

» read more New titles Reading

Embraced by Australia

Specialist in the Digital Programs and Initiatives Division of the Smithsonian Libraries and Lauren Collister Scholarly Communications Librarian at the University of Pittsburgh. Brought to us by the LITA's Altmetrics and Digital Analytics Interest Group.

ANU Open Research

New resources Gpmaps: a bayesian nonparametric approach for mapping and reconstruction Ice core reconstruction of sea ice change in the Amundsen-Ross Seas since 1702 A.D Avoiding wireheading with value reinforcement learning Self-modification of policy and utility function in rational Death and suicide in universal artificial intelligence

Australian National Data Service

Merry Christmas!

Volume Seven, 2015

Altmetrics in Libraries. A great new webinar on this topic is out – presenters Heather Coates, IUPUI University Library Center for Digital Scholarship, Richard Naples, Technical Information End of year. What a wonderful way to end the year! The SIS Celebration was a great success – well done to everyone who helped make the year and the event so successful. There are great photos on the mega disk - SIS end of year event \161208 SIS end of year event pic – a few are below.

Butterscotch Sauce By Jacqui Kempton

Second Prize

Glace Fruit Cake By Heather Jenks

First Prize Macarons By Wan Chitravas Second Prize Gingerbread Christmas tree By ANDS: Liz's daughter, Liz, Susannah, Richard, Adrian, Karen, and other encouragers who supported the decorators

First Prize Choc honeycomb Raspberry Slice By Rachel Second Prize Lemon iced cornflake slice By Imogen Ingram

Staff meeting. All the presentations and the notes have been added to the intranet. Do let me know your thoughts on the philosophy/strategic positioning questions. Thanks Tom for your contribution - really good!

Gardner has been elected University Librarian and Director of Library Services, University of Cambridge. She is currently Director of Library Services and the University Librarian at the University of Bristol, and before that, she worked at Exeter University and Leeds University.

New Cambridge University Librarian. Dr Jessica

The International Alliance of Research Library Associations (IARLA)—a global coalition of several major research and academic library associations in Australia, Canada, Europe, and the United States recognizes the significance of preservation of the scholarly record. IARLA fully endorses "Working Together to Ensure the Future of the Digital Scholarly.

- Record"—a statement by The Keepers Registry, a Jisc-funded service maintained by EDINA and the ISSN International Centre, that outlines the actions now required to tackle the evolving challenges of preserving and ensuring the long-term accessibility of digital scholarship.. The first CAUL e-newsletter in online now. Copyright: Productivity Commission Intellectual Property Arrangements report released – key points include "Introducing a system of user rights, including the (well-established) principles—based fair use exception, would go some way to redress this imbalance" – do include chapter 6 in your Christmas reading list. From the US - a proposal that would give the US Copyright Office more autonomy has been released. The Register of Copyrights would be subject to the
- Good news for the NLA. From this month's MYEFO: The Government will provide $20.4 million over five years from the Public Service Modernisation Fund — Agency Sustainability Stream to support innovation, productivity improvements and efficiency in the National Library of Australia (NLA) and the Australian War Memorial (AWM). This measure includes $16.4 million over four years from 2016-17 to the NLA for digitisation of material and upgrade of critical infrastructure for its Trove digital information resource and to upgrade other same congressional nomination process as other

Great article in Fairfax press newspapers by Peter government officials.

Martin on the PC report

CLOCKSS update. New Publishers include: American Institute of Mathematical Sciences Canadian Journal of Public Health Chicago-Kent College of Law CourseSource European Cells and Materials Hellenic Psychiatric Association Open Library of Humanities protocols.io

Stockholm University Press

New Libraries include:

Roxanne Missingham

Information Online

critical infrastructure

Tuwhera, Auckland University of Technology University of Westminster Press Utrecht University Library Open Access Journals are to be expected to have no access to the full texts of journals by the publisher Elsevier from 1 January 2017. Is it a negotiating tactic, a statement of intent for major change? Read about it here.

- Calvin College Gonzaga University Elsevier. More than 60 major German research institutions
- University Librarian Events

When? 13-17 February 2017 Where? Hyatt, Sydney More information about the event can be found here. Readings summarising over a decades worth of research which has found that "junior scholars do not appear to be visiting the library any less than those with more years in their respective fields" and that the whole role of libraries is changing. Framework for Information Literacy sandbox.

Early career academics. Ithaka has responded to the article in THU about the Publishing Research Consortium report suggesting libraries has little to offer ECASs. The post

Effective online instructional videos, Richard Rose in Campus technology describes six dimensions that he proposes must be well-tuned for a successful online instructional video project. » read more

The secret life of the librarian? In The Guardian, an anonymous librarian reflects on what he's learned in 40 years on the job: "I love my job so much that work-life balance has never been an issue. Plus I am very happy to take my work home with me because I never leave the library without a big stack of books, CDs, and DVDs. The only regret I have about my long career in public libraries is that I have not been able to convince more librarians that they should be less book-focused and more people-focused.'

» read more

Canada's university libraries. Raywat Deonandan writes: "Universities and colleges across Canada are having their budgets severely tightened for a host of reasons, some more rational than others. In this quest for slashing costs, involved in 22 library construction projects. Key issues - negotiating values and incorporate them into designs, kinds of learning these spaces support, and best (and worst) practices inform libraries embarking on a renovation." » read more

